DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 9, 10, 13, 14, 15, 25, and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U. S. Publication 2003/0165136 to Cornelius et al. in view of U. S. Patent No. 5,465,286 to Clare et al.

With respect to claims 1, 2, 5, 9, 10, 13, 14, 15, 25, and 26, Cornelius et al. disclose a method of operating a communications network including a firewall comprising the steps of: monitoring delays associated with the closing of ports corresponding to communications sessions following the termination of said communications sessions as indicated by session control signals (see paragraphs 0014 and 0030-0034).

Cornelius et al. do not disclose generating an alert signal when a monitored closing delay exceeds a preselected threshold.

Clare et al. teach generating an alert signal when a monitored closing delay exceeds a preselected threshold (see col. 8, line 63 to col. 9, line 64 to col. 9, line 7).

Art Unit: 2857

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Cornelius et al.'s method to include generating an alert signal when a monitored closing delay exceeds a preselected threshold, as taught by Clare et al., in order that the supervisor can be alerted of excessively delayed responses to waiting calls.

4. Claims 3, 4, 11, 12, 16, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cornelius et al. in view of Clare et al. as applied to claims 1, 2, 9, 10, 14, and 15 above, and further in view of U. S. Publication 2004/0136379 to Liao et al.

As noted above, with respect to claims 3, 4, 11, 12, 16, and 17, Cornelius et al. in combination with Clare et al. teach all the features of the claimed invention, but do not disclose adjusting network routing to reduce the load on the firewall system which triggered said alarm signal.

Rao et al. teach adjusting network routing to reduce the load on the firewall system which triggered said alarm signal (see paragraphs 0059 and 0100).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Cornelius et al. in combination with Clare et al.'s method to include adjusting network routing to reduce the load on the firewall system which triggered said alarm signal, as taught by Rao et al., in order that network performance can be improved.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-8 and 18-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but 5. would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5, 9-17, 25, and 26 have been considered 6. but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
